The Impact of the New Revenue Recognition Standard for You and Your Consumer Products Business

November 12, 2019

Below are resources from our 11/12 session covering the five-step model and industry specific considerations for Consumer Products companies, including Food, Beverage and Beauty; Fashion and Apparel; and Manufacturing and Distribution:

General Consumer Products Industry Overview

This is a recording of a live event. Viewers of this replay will not be eligible for CPE credit.

Download Slides

Food, Beverage and Beauty Session

This is a recording of a live event. Viewers of this replay will not be eligible for CPE credit.

Download Slides

Fashion and Apparel Session

This is a recording of a live event. Viewers of this replay will not be eligible for CPE credit.

Download Slides

Manufacturing and Distribution Session

This is a recording of a live event. Viewers of this replay will not be eligible for CPE credit.

Download Slides

To assist you in assessing your contracts, click here for a revenue recognition contract checklist.

The information included in the above presentations is for general information only. Any advice or information provided by Anchin, Block & Anchin LLP ("Anchin") in the course of the presentation is based on a limited discussion and analysis of underlying facts. Additional research or a more complete review of the facts could significantly affect Anchin's analyses and conclusions. Consequently, Anchin makes no representations or warranties of any kind with respect to the accuracy, completeness or suitability for your purposes of the information contained in the presentation. Please reach out to your Anchin contact if you require a more detailed analysis.