OVERVIEW

Steve Mandell is an Executive Relationship Senior Manager and leads Anchin's Executive Network (AEN). He has more than 15 years of experience in the industry and joined Anchin in 2013. His experience is concentrated in relationship management, executive recruitment, business development and professional development across a variety of industries, including; Consumer Products Public Relations/Marketing, Advertising and Media, Technology, Construction, Real Estate, Family Office and Hedge Funds, as well all types of Private Equity backed companies.

Steve assists both C-Suite level accounting and finance executives in transition along with corporate clients who are looking for high-level talent. His clients are primarily located in the Tri-State region.

Steve regularly hosts events for executives through the Anchin Executive Network (AEN). Anchin's Executive Network provides unparalleled access to job opportunities with our clients, complimentary CPE along with educational seminars, and networking events. These events include Anchin Executive Forum, a biannual event where C-Suite finance executives come together for discussions about financial and tax trends as well as other timely business topics that are valid across all industries that Anchin serves. Steve sources expert speakers for these events that have included cybersecurity experts, economists and legal professionals.
