

Anchin Named a “Top 100 Firm,” “Top Tax Firm,” and “Regional Leader” by Accounting Today for 2025

March 26, 2025

Anchin, a leading accounting and advisory firm based in New York, is honored to be recognized once again by Accounting Today as a “Top 100 Firm,” “Top Tax Firm,” and “Regional Leader” for 2025. This achievement follows the firm’s outstanding Net Promoter® Score of 87.5% and its honor as a 2025 Best of Accounting® Award recipient.

Since 2016, Anchin has consistently earned recognition from Accounting Today across multiple categories. These accolades reflect Anchin’s dedication as an independent, partner-owned firm, and the team’s ability to deliver strong financial results and significant tax savings for businesses, investment funds, and high-net-worth individuals and families.

“We are incredibly proud to be recognized by Accounting Today as a top firm,” said Russell B. Shinsky, Anchin’s Managing Partner. “This recognition is a testament to our team's dedication, commitment to exceptional client service, and the strong culture that defines Anchin. As a partner-owned firm, we take great pride in delivering meaningful value to our clients while cultivating an environment where our professionals can grow and thrive."

At Anchin, the firm's success is driven by the strength of its people. Its growth is fueled by their ability to adapt to clients' changing needs while upholding the highest standards of excellence. A key factor in Anchin's continued achievements, including its ranking as the 7th Regional Leader among firms, is its dedication to addressing the challenges of today's business environment.